

Fuel Ventures: Igniting Tomorrow's Leading Companies

About Fuel Ventures

Fuel Ventures is a leading venture capital fund based in London, dedicated to backing early-stage technology companies that are shaping the future. Founded by successful entrepreneur Mark Pearson, Fuel Ventures combines deep operational expertise with substantial investment to support the most promising founders in building scalable, impactful businesses.

Our Vision

Fuel Ventures is driven by a commitment to support the next generation of technology-led companies that challenge the status quo. We believe in innovation that brings positive, measurable change, and we invest in founders who embody this spirit. By combining capital with strategic support, we help our portfolio companies build the foundations for long-term success.

Investment Focus

Fuel Ventures invests across a wide range of sectors within the technology landscape, including SaaS, e-commerce, FinTech, and marketplaces. Our portfolio represents a diverse mix of industries and growth stages, from early-stage disruptors to scaling ventures. We look for companies with innovative models, high growth potential, and solutions that address pressing market needs.

Portfolio Highlights

Fuel Ventures has built a robust portfolio of over 170 companies, each tackling unique industry challenges and positioned to become leaders in their fields. Among them are pioneering firms in artificial intelligence, digital health, and consumer technology. We provide these businesses with more than capital, supporting them with insights, network access, and mentorship to drive rapid, sustainable growth.
