

CABIN READY APP

Recovery before take-off

Purpose

Help us, help fight attendants, to help themselves

The Cabin Ready app aims to help flight attendants struggling with substance abuse to stay sober and keep their jobs!

Problem

Our Hands Are Tied

Flight attendants with substance abuse issues get laid off, because their jobs are safety sensitive, according to the DOT.

Airlines are losing out on a trained workforce.

Joblessness often further aggravates the substance abuse issue of the individual leading to deteriorating mental health.

Solution

Enable Successful Recovery

Cabin Ready is a digital recovery portfolio, tracking all steps of recovery.

The app meets the requirements of FADAP and DOT, logs peer check-ins, and helps the person in recovery to get back to flying asap!

Research shows that introducing ACCOUNTABILITY and HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENTS help patients to form the positive habits they need to overcome substance dependence.

View Research

Why Now

Unprecedented Staff Shortages

Society is experiencing, what many experts are calling, a mental health emergency.

Southwest FADAP is working hard to help flight attendants better their mental health to avoid any infractions related to substance abuse issues at work.

Product

Introducing Cabin Ready

Cabin Ready offers a simple and user-friendly interface to track recovery progress, meet FADAP requirements, and log peer check-ins.

Here is a prototype of Cabin Ready

View Prototype

Product Features

Your digital Recovery Portfolio

- Recovery tracker: A dashboard to track progress and meet requirements
- Peer check-ins: Allows users to log check-ins with peers for accountability and support
- Reminders: Sends notifications to remind users of important milestones and meetings
- Resources: Provides access to resources such as support groups, therapy, and wellness tips
- Private: All user data is kept secure and confidential.

Team

A Collaborative Effort

Our team includes experienced app developers, designers and marketers from Ghost Founder and addiction specialists from Southwest Airlines/FADAP.

Together we bring a unique combination of technical expertise and clinical knowledge to the development and implementation of the Cabin Ready App.

Financials

Show me the money

We can protect the livelihood, and mental health of hundreds of people, while minimizing the workload of FADAP program managers at the same time.

AND we can also generate revenue doing so!

Here is a simple financial model based on a monthly subscription and factoring in basic user churn.

Show Financials

Elevator Pitch

Tell everyone

“Introducing our sobriety app for flight attendants.

Cabin Ready helps track recovery progress, meet airline drug and alcohol program requirements, and connect with peers for support.

It benefits both flight attendants and your airline by providing a valuable tool for employees and helping to retain a skilled workforce.

Let us help your employees achieve their recovery goals and get back to delivering exceptional service.”

Let's do it!

We Work Well With Deadlines

At Ghost Founder, we believe in the power of speed, innovation, and partnership.

We created all assets you see here in a single day working with Tom Spillers as our contact person.

Tom Spillers

Chair of the Southwest TWU
Local 556 FADAP Program

Meet Ghost Founder